

MAUNDER

emerge with a different take on the melbourne sound

More than just another rock band, MAUNDER brings influences of jazz and funk into their music, with piano, guitars, and catchy tunes. Having been compared to bands such as The Whitlams and Brad, MAUNDER is a band that has its own unique interpretation of modern music. Already turning heads at gigs, this is a dedicated and professional outfit.

"full of emotion and poignancy... ..as a unit that delivered well crafted songs"

Neil Wedd, Inpress

"They were arguably my favourite of these groups."

Richard Collings about
Termites ate my festival

Having worked together on various project for many years, MAUNDER is the merging of these skills into a unique music outfit. Their combined credits include Jess and the Paige Boys, The Whisky Go Go's, Ouch My Face, She Don't Eat Apples, various function bands and orchestras. Other industry credits include independent film and theatre scores, including Pizza: The Da Vinci Cup (SBS), Watch Me (overseas release, Scopofile Films), Seven Years Bad Luck, Quarantine, The Tempest (Melbourne Fringe Festival), Starship Invincible (Melbourne International Comedy Festival) and producing and session work for Zat Zit records and Omega Music.

With such a strong background of experience and talent, MAUNDER won't stay in obscurity for long.

Who is who?

Daniel Jericho Vocals, Piano, Guitars
Steve Huf Vocals, Guitars, Trumpet
